Zeppelin Starts On 6,600 Mile Trip to Tokyo

Course Will Take It Over One of the Wildest Areas Known to Man—
Chicago Man Falls in Last Minute
Attempt to Get Aboard.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 15.—Striking north and eastward toward a vast and little known region, the Graf Zeppelin, queen of the air, today cruised across Germany en route to Tokyo, Japan, on the second of its round-the-world journey.

Leaving its home port here at 4:34 a. m. (10:34 p. m. E. S. T. Wednesday) the giant dirigible headed directly for Berlin, 377 miles distant, at 8:45 a. m. (12:45 p. m. E. S. T.) directed Nuremberg, Bavaria, having traversed the 150 miles in two hours and 11 minutes.

Ahead of the Graf lay a devious course across European Russia, through the Ural mountains and over the broad, barren steppes of Siberia to northeastern Asia, where it must turn southeastward to Tokyo. It was expected about 6,600 miles would be covered in a journey of about 120 hours with arrival in Tokyo on Monday afternoon, Japanese time.

Aboard the Graf Zeppelin were 60 persons, 20 passengers—19 men and one woman—40 officers and crew, and about 50,000 pieces of mail and freight. Much of the mail, all of the crew, and nine of the passengers, had come all the way from Lakehurst, N. J., where the world journey was begun.

The start from Friedrichshafen was made in full moonlight, an hour before dawn with a few hundred persons gathered near the Zeppelin's hangar, who cheered loudly as its round crew loosed their hold and the ship rose gracefully, circling the port before heading northward.

It was 4:05 a. m. when the Graf's motors were first started. Within a few minutes the passengers were aboard, with Lady Grace Drummond Hay, only woman passenger, first. At 4:18 a. m. Dr. Hugo Eckener, master, who had been standing by the side of the hangar, entered the ship, and at 4:19 a. m. the order was given which started it from the hangar.

A last minute effort by an American, Nelson Morris, of Chicago, to get aboard the Zeppelin failed. Morris previously had bought a ticket for the trip from the Hamburg-American tourists agent but had been told later there was not room for him and he could not make the voyage.

No Stowaway on This Trip.
It was believed there was no stowaway this trip. No attempt to get aboard by one was in evidence at departure.

Oil, gasoline, baggage and equipment aboard the Zeppelin weighed about 15 tons. The craft was buoyed by 79,000 cubic meters of hydrogen and was supplied with almost 25,000 cubic meters of blue gas, its fuel.

It was intended during most of the trip and particularly under the aid of favorable winds to use only four of the Graf's five motors, decreasing its cruising speed to about 58 miles an hour and increasing its flight radius to about 150 hours, or 30 hours more than it was estimated would be needed to reach Tokyo.

In detail, the course planned by Dr. Eckener on leaving—subject to change as weather conditions developed—was from Friedrichshafen to Berlin, and from Berlin to Danzig and Königsberg. It was expected to cross the Soviet border near Dunaberg, Latvia, and to striking almost due east to Moscow.

Moscow, by the course to be followed, was approximately 1,400 miles from Friedrichshafen, and should be reached about dawn Friday. From Moscow the craft, it was expected, would be headed almost due east along the 60th parallel to the Ural Mountains, from where it was intended to strike due eastward to Jakutsk.

At Jakutsk the ship expected to turn south and slightly east across the Japan sea to Tokyo, goal of the flight, and starting place for the third lap of the journey to Los Angeles, to be begun within four or five days after arrival.

Wildest Areas Known to Man.
From the Ural Mountains to Jakutsk the Zeppelin must cover one of the wildest areas known to man. It is peopled largely by Nomadic semi-barbarous tribes, few of whom have ever seen an aircraft and many of whom might be inimical to passengers and crew if the Graf should be forced down.

Four Nations Unite to Oppose British Demands

The Hague, Aug. 15 (AP).—The British delegation, by letter and otherwise, within the past 24 hours has made known to other nations participating in the conference to make the Young plan effective that its ultimatum still stands, and it will not accept the Young plan without an increased share of German reparations.

It was made known also Philip Snowden, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, intended to demand action on his resolution for revision of the Young plan, and would brook little further delay, intimate personal conversations between the delegates continued anyway with the hope of finding some way out of the deadlock.

Mr. Snowden was understood to have given this warning to the other delegations because the talk of offers and concessions had created in England the impression that a compromise was being considered. The chancellor, while willing to consider reasonable proposals, wanted to forestall any impression which might have been taken root in consequence of the talk of offers which might or might not prove acceptable.

France, Italy, Belgium and Japan had united today to oppose claims of Snowden.

Delegations of the four nations met for private informal conversations last night and today and fixed the front upon which they will do battle with the British Laborite chancellor. Two main contentions formed their principal weapons, first that percentages of division of reparations payments fixed in the Young plan are so finely adjusted that rearrangement is impossible; second, that other advantages accruing to Great Britain equalize any possible financial loss suffered under the new reparation project.

Burglar Escapes After Wild Ride

The police were informed early this morning by telephone that a man was trying to burglarize the Fred Scholl meat market, corner of Broadway and Foxhall avenue, and a futile chase followed to capture the burglar, who used an automobile to evade the officers.

Officer Guernsey Burger was detailed on the job and he started in the police car. He reached the meat market in time to see the transgressor speed away in a sedan, believed to be a Star or Durant. Officer Burger gave chase down Broadway and was near the car as it turned into Spring street. He followed it as far as Post street, where it reversed its course and reached Broadway. The driver turned his car into West Union street and headed over a course through to Wurts then into Hunter and Abel streets, where he was lost in the night.

Police along the Hudson were asked to be on the lookout for the man. He evidently was scared away from the Scholl place for a checkup showed nothing missing. He entered the place through a window in the bologna room. The engine of his car was left running to make his getaway a hasty one.

CONTROL CANADA FIRES.
200,000 ACRES BURNED
Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 15 (AP).—Fires which in the last few weeks caused extensive damage to timber land in the Canadian northwest were virtually under control today.

In the Manitoba districts volunteer fire fighters were able to return to their homes for the first time in several days. Skeleton forces were maintained, however, to prevent a recurrence of the fires and aerial patrols were continued.

Forestry Service Headquarters estimated that approximately 200,000 acres had been destroyed, with a total of between 20,000,000 and 25,000,000 board feet of merchantable timber.

IN JAIL SINCE JUNE 28
ON MISTAKEN IDENTITY
New York, Aug. 15 (AP).—In the case of Patrolman John J. Condon it would appear his face is his misfortune.

Not that Condon isn't a hard some officer. But after his third arrest in three years as a robber suspect he is convinced there are too many criminals who look like him.

His third discharge as a robber suspect came with the identification of Ray Cooper, also a robber suspect, as the man who on June 24 held up a grocery store, a crime for which Condon has been in jail awaiting trial since June 28.

Binghamton Newspaperman Dead.
Binghamton, N. Y., Aug. 15 (AP).—G. Chester Richardson, 65, dead, newspaperman in Binghamton, died at his home here this morning.

He began his newspaper career as the first correspondent for the Syracuse Herald in Watertown and northern New York, later coming to Binghamton as branch manager for the old Utica Saturday Globe and special correspondent for several New York papers. 25 years ago he joined the staff of the Binghamton Press, specializing in politics and musical affairs.

Dollar Day Big Success

Despite Adverse Weather Conditions
Which Prevailed During The Day,
—Merchants and Customers Satisfied.

Dollar Day Wednesday proved to be one of the biggest ever held in Kingston in spite of the decidedly adverse weather which prevailed during much of the day. While the sale might have been larger had the weather been more favorable the merchants are wondering what they would have done with the crowd had it been larger. The opinion of the merchants is that the sale was a big success. Crowds began to arrive early in the day and while many were of the impression that the Farm Bureau picnic might interfere with the attendance at the sale it apparently stimulated business for never has a Kingston Dollar Day attracted the number of people as did that of Wednesday.

Many of the stores had anticipated a rush of business and prepared for it with additional help. This gave to the public unusually prompt service in spite of the large crowd. As in past years the largest crowd was during the early hours of the day. By shortly after 8 o'clock trolley cars and buses were filled to capacity with people traveling toward the downtown section. Throughout the day the stores were busy and even into the evening when the stores remained open there was a good attendance.

During the evening a band concert by the J. O. U. A. M. band was listened to by a large number of people.

That the Dollar Day was a success not only from the viewpoint of the business houses but from the public's viewpoint was expressed in the satisfied expressions of those who were homeward bound with huge packages of merchandise.

Dr. J. H. Snook Found Guilty

Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 15 (AP).—Dr. James H. Snook, former Ohio State University professor, was in the county jail today awaiting either a sentence of death in common pleas court Monday for the murder of his co-ed mistress, Theora Hix, or a favorable ruling on a motion for a new trial.

The verdict was returned 28 minutes after the jury went out, and after only one ballot.

As the pandemonium following the jury's verdict of first degree murder broke out yesterday afternoon, trial Judge Henry L. Scarlett tentatively set Monday morning as the date for a hearing on a motion for a new trial. If it is denied, he said he would sentence Snook immediately.

The future holds no fear for Snook if his diffident attitude is to be taken seriously.

In his cell in the county jail last night six hours after the jury of eleven men and one woman had found him guilty without recommending mercy, he complacently ignored the verdict that carries with it the penalty of death in the electric chair.

"I never gave the punishment a thought until you mentioned it," he said to reporters.

And this expression of his mind was borne out by the expression on his face, which was stern and composed.

Local Federal Agents Raid 'Drop'

Find 75 Half Barrels of Beer in Middletown Place Where Large Quantities of Beer Are Dropped Overnight.

Two places were raided by federal agents Wednesday, one of them being one of the principal "drops" for beer which is being run up from New Jersey. Both places were in Middletown.

At 71 Cottage street, Middletown, agents from the Kingston office executed a search warrant where they found some alleged whiskey behind the bar and on further search of the premises located 75 half barrels of beer. The place is known as a "drop" where beer which is being run up from New Jersey and other distant points is dropped off overnight and picked up later for distribution in the vicinity. Agents claim the place is one of the principal in that locality for the transfer of beer. Pasquale Perino was arrested and arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Crist at Middletown where he was held in $500 bail.

Fannie Nania was arrested at 54 Cottage street where the agents executed a search warrant. This was Fannie's second visit by Federal men. The place is run as a grocery store where groceries are purchased in the front room but where after purchasing groceries in the front store it is possible to go to the rear room and be served with alleged whiskey. Many complaints have been made against the place. A supply of alleged whiskey was found by the agents. She was held in $500 bail on charge of possession.

Services in Rural Churches.

Steketee is to conduct the preaching services at the hours of 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., respectively. The community is invited to come and join in the service of worship. The topic is to be "The Marks of a Christian Church."

Lightning Kills 4 and 3 Drown in Philadelphia

Philadelphia, Aug. 15 (AP).—Four persons were killed by lightning and three were drowned as a result of severe electrical storms that descended upon Philadelphia and the surrounding country late yesterday.

The first storm was followed a few hours later by one of equal intensity. Both were accompanied by heavy rain, high wind and lightning.

Two persons were killed, a young woman was paralyzed and her mother burned when lightning struck a peach-packing plant at Hammonton, N. J. Three others working in the plant were knocked down by the bolt.

Several persons throughout the storm area were injured or struck by lightning and a number of homes and farm buildings were burned.

The Olney Valley, extending over an area of 10 miles, was under several feet of water, and today inhabitants along the banks of Ironstone Creek were removing personal belongings from the flood-swept homes.

Bungalows and automobiles were carried down the valley.

In Philadelphia a roofer was killed by lightning on a school house.

A gardener at Bryn Mawr, Pa., was killed by another bolt, which stunned his assistant.

Two negro men and a negress drowned when the driver of an automobile, blinded by the rain, drove through a guard rail into the Delaware River.

Many points in south Jersey suffered. Highways were flooded, crops damaged and several buildings set afire by lightning. Trees were uprooted and other damage was done to farms in Camden, Burlington, Atlantic and Salem counties.

Milton Woman Killed by Auto

Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher, 72 Years Old,
Died of Injuries Sustained When Hit By Automobile Driven By The Rev. T. E. Richards.

Mrs. Elizabeth Fisher, 72 years old, who resides about a half mile north of the village of Milton was struck by an automobile driven by the Rev. T. E. Richards of Shamokin, Pa., Wednesday morning and died from the injuries sustained before she could be taken to a hospital.

The accident was reported to the State Troopers and Trooper Daley responded and with Coroner George Suiter of Marlborough conducted an investigation.

From what the officials learned Mrs. Fisher was walking along the road near her home when the car of Mr. Richards came south. As the car she suddenly started across the road and although an attempt was made to turn the car to the left and avoid her the act was not successful. She was struck and medical examination later showed that she had sustained a compound fracture of the lower right leg, fracture of left shoulder blade, two fractured ribs, and cuts and abrasions about the face and body. She died within a few minutes.

In attempting to avoid striking the woman Mr. Richards pulled his car to the shoulder of the road and narrowly missed striking the fence. The car was stopped within a very short distance.

At the time of the accident Mr. Richards, who formerly had a charge at Catskill, was returning home to Shamokin from a visit to Catskill. He was accompanied by his two sons.

After the facts surrounding the accident had been learned and witnesses almost immediately had been questioned Coroner Suiter gave his decision as one of accidental death and one which could not be avoided by Mr. Richards.

Farm and Home Bureau Picnic Marred By Rain

Horseshoe Pitching Championship Postponed
Until Saturday—Athletic Events For Boys
And Girls Called Off—Stone Ridge Wins
Tug of War—Fair Crowd Enjoys Riding
Stunts By Troopers.

A heavy downpour of rain shortly after noon threatened to drown out the Farm and Home Bureau picnic at Forsyth Park Wednesday but the picnic parties took shelter in the pavilion and in their cars until the rain was over and then the festivities proceeded as before. During the afternoon while the weather threatened rain several times there was a good sized crowd at the grounds. Throughout the afternoon the attendance was increased and by mid-afternoon there was a fair sized attendance.

On account of the wet condition of the grounds the athletic events scheduled for the boys and girls were called.

The tug of war contest was put on and Stone Ridge carried off honors and retained the cup for the third year this giving that community permanent possession of the cup.

Horseshoe pitching went on between rainstorms but as many of the players left when the heavy rain fell shortly after noon it was decided to call off the county championship meet for the day. This contest will be played off Saturday afternoon at the park when the team to represent the county at the State Fair at Syracuse will be selected. In addition to representing the county at the state fair in the state championship contest the winning team will also take the cup offered for the county championship. The championship contest will be singles.

Although the crowd was very materially lessened by the stormy weather the booths did a thriving business and hot dogs, cold watermelon, ice cream and "pop" was dispensed.

Exhibition Booths.
There were a number of exhibition booths on the grounds, including an exhibit of electric and gas appliances by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, A. J. Harder of Hurley, who showed deep water pumping devices for the farm and home, a display of Ford cars by Millard and Chrysler by Every's Sales and Service, Harder's Electric Shop also had a display of electric washers and refrigerators and there was also a booth where the Farm Bureau spray service men demonstrated the benefits from proper spraying of fruits.

Throughout the afternoon Malsenholder's Citizens' Band gave a band concert and shortly before 4 o'clock the riding team from "C" Troop State Troopers put on their riding stunts. The ground was rather slippery for the riding but the lads went through their stunts without a mishap.

Parking of cars was cared for in the usual manner under the direction of State Troopers under the command of Sergeant James Cunningham and Sergeant Jack Lockhart.

Kingston Best Marlborough.
At about 2 o'clock when the courts had dried up a bit a series of twenty-five unofficial horseshoe pitching games was put on between Kingston and Marlborough with five men teams. In the series Kingston won out over Marlborough, taking fourteen of the twenty-five games played. The feature of the contest was the pitching of Williams of Kingston, who won all five of his games. DuFon also of Kingston was a close second.

Following the series two five men teams were selected to put on a match game Saturday after completion of the county championship pitching which will begin at 1 o'clock. The winning team for Marlborough which will participate in the unofficial match Saturday will consist of Staples, Hunter, Albertson, Ayers and Downer. The Kingston players who will oppose Marlborough will be Williams, DuFon, Wood, Roosa and Gonyon.

Policemen Present.
Although a bit early in the season many of the policemen were at the picnic circulating among friends. Among those who were observed on the grounds were "Doc" Wright, J. Smith, Republican candidate for sheriff, Mayor E. J. Dempsey, City Judge Augustus Smith, Jacob V. Merrihue, Democratic candidate for sheriff and Sheriff Arthur Rice and Under Sheriff William S. Doyle. Of course Assemblyman Millard Davis of Marlborough was present conducting hot dogs for the crowd. Mr. Davis personally presided over the hot dog booth and saw that they were "all hot".

Test Meetings Largely Attended.
The test meetings held each evening beginning at 8 o'clock, except Saturdays, at the corner of Henry and Pine street, have been attracting an increased number of people. On Sunday evening last there were 125 in the tent and a number stood outside. There is special singing conducted by Miss Pearl Hill. Evangelist D. M. Coulson, who is a converted cowboy, conducts the meetings.

Army Deserters Attacked Women

Men Who Brutally Attacked Two Women Motorists Confess After Being Arrested—Waive Extradition.

Denver, August 15 (AP).—Two deserters from the United States Army, Gordon Frost, 22, East Pepperell, Mass., and Wayne C. Aldrich, 18, Chicago, confessed last night that they had beaten and robbed two women motorists near Hoxie, Kansas, Sunday night.

The pair, arrested Tuesday night and returned to the Fitzsimmons Hospital, near here, were brought back to Denver last night when detectives learned they were in Kansas at the time Miss Leda Beauregard, 21, and Mrs. Beatrice Walsh, 34, of Concordia, Kansas, were attacked. They admitted the crime almost immediately, police said, and later directed officers to the motor car they had stolen from the two women. Three suitcases belonging to Miss Beauregard and Mrs. Walsh were found in the car.

The men told police they deserted from the hospital last Friday and hitch-hiked their way to Limon, Col. They were picked up there Sunday by Mrs. Walsh and Miss Beauregard, and the four drove to Hoxie, arriving there about dusk. They continued eastward, but as night fell the women became nervous and started to return to Hoxie.

Aldrich struck one of the women in the face, he said, drawing blood and then the two men thrust the women into the back seat of the car. They started to drive on, but the women screamed and the men drove the car into a field.

There they attacked the women with a razor blade, slashing them in a dozen places, and tore their clothes off, using strips of their dresses to bind them. The women were found later almost nude and in a serious condition from loss of blood.

Aldrich and Frost drove the car back to Denver. Both men waived extradition for their return to Kansas.

Frost gave no reason for the attack and Aldrich said he did not know why he did it. "I must have been crazy—but they kept screaming, and it seemed the only way to shut them up."

WORD FROM MR. SWEET
FROM OKLAHOMA CITY
Word has been received in this city from Carle W. Sweet, formerly manager of the L. B. Van Wageningen store, who is now located in Oklahoma City, Okla. Mr. Sweet is in charge of the stores of the Southwest Stores, Inc., at both Tulsa and Oklahoma City and writes as follows:

The past week has been the record for continued heat. A maximum of 106 degrees and no day less than 100 degrees. It doesn't bother me particularly but it does get fearfully monotonous. But it is not so bad here. Find the people great and everywhere so much enterprise.

There is more construction going on in this state than I have ever seen before, and everyone predicts great prosperity for Oklahoma.

"I wonder if the aviators returned to Kingston this summer. I take the plane each week between Tulsa and Oklahoma City, covering the distance of 125 miles in from 40 to 55 minutes. By train or auto it is a long, hot dusty ride. Tulsa and Oklahoma City have regular passenger service to all large cities in the United States. Their airports have passenger stations, plane announcers and other features of the best rail terminals."

ARREST SUSPECT IN SLAYING OF DOROTHY AUNE.
Minneapolis, August 15 (AP).—Police today arrested a suspect in connection with the slaying of 12-year-old Dorothy Aune. Detectives picked up a man recently released from the insane asylum at St. Peter, Minn.

His identity was not disclosed but police say he was unable to give a satisfactory explanation of his movements Wednesday, when the body of the girl, found in manure sacks, was found by two teens in a vacant lot in South Minneapolis.

All the regional and zone sales managers and their staffs, and the representatives in full force were in the Motor Capital from Monday to Friday. Never before in the company's history were so many of its sales chiefs gathered together in the same place at the same time. With the introduction of the new Dictator Eight line of cars selling from $1,185 to $1,335, history is being repeated by Studebaker, according to Paul G. Hoffman, Studebaker Vice President. "Studebaker was the first manufacturer to produce a six cylinder car selling for less than $2,000," Mr. Hoffman said. "That was back in the days when the four was supreme—a position it ultimately resigned to the six. Now, with the unmistakable trend toward the eight cylinder car, Studebaker feels that it has scored a similar achievement through its introduction of the new Dictator Eight. Though low in price and exceptionally thrifty in gasoline and oil consumption, the Dictator is a large, commodious, and finely built automobile. The Dictator Eight is available in six different body models."

There can't be anything truer than truth

How a Radio Manufacturer Looks at His Own Job
"I could not be happy doing the same thing every day in the same way," said A. Atwater Kent at the dedication of his thirty-two acre radio factory. "I like a game which puts me on my mettle, makes me keep my wits about me, forces me to meet and beat new problems."
"Many people find as they grow older that they have an inclination to slow up, especially if they have achieved some success. I think that is a great mistake."
"Men are much happier when they are always ready to go ahead, to find a new way to do an old thing or discover some new thing to do."
"If a man relaxes and leans back and feels satisfied with what he has done, he is likely to find himself without the advantage of opportunity when new opportunities arise."
"The way to be ready to do some new thing is never to stop doing some old thing. This is one of the reasons I'm so happy to be in the radio business."
"I am sure you will pardon me when I say that I am a radio man."

Gloucester Fishermen Trust All to Radio
When the Gloucester fishing boats—the fleet that Kipling wrote about in "Captains Courageous"—go forth to chase mackerel up to the Grand Banks, the fishermen receive information upon which their lives and fortunes depend, through Atwater Kent Radio.
There are 150 boats in the fleet, and every one has radio—not the dash-dot sets that trans-ocean liners use—but the same kind of sets you use at home.
The fishermen have their own broadcasting station, WDEH, which sends to the fleet the news of arrivals at Gloucester, prices of fish and the places where fish are being caught. The prices are broadcast in code. If they are low and a small receiving the information is only half paid. If the price is high, each boat runs ready to port to catch in.
The fishermen's station also broadcasts weather reports and personal information about the health of the families at home. On all days when the boats are out, the boats are in the water, the station is open for the use of the fishermen.

Autumn Colorings in Paris Apparel

Scarlet, Rich Brown, Rusty
Yellow, Are Featured in Fall Clothes.

Clothes that were made for the summer, but visioning the autumn, are what the best dressmakers have been showing, writes a Paris fashion correspondent in the Louisville-Courier-Journal. That designers are turning their thoughts to the warmth of autumn colorings is indicated everywhere. A steady stream of scarlet, rich brown, rusty yellow—tints of the frost-kissed leaves of autumn—flows through dress, with white forming the bridge with summer. But even the white dress has a touch of red, or perhaps a great splash of it somewhere.

At Berthe's street coats are in cherry red or other bright colors or in a rich, warm brown. These hang straight at the back with a slight flare at the sides, for to be truly smart all skirts, whether they be of dresses or coats, must dip to one side. Fashion might be said to be on the hunt; clothes are diagonally striped and many coats are cut on the bias. As a trimming for cloth coats, printed or plain panne velvet takes the form of insertions or facings, the velvet matching the dress which completes the ensemble, rather than the coat.

Bands of fur half way up the sleeve are new and smart. Fur bracelets, they are called. Fashion is becoming very closely allied with anatomy these days, and elbows are now coming in for their share of attention.

At the moment beaver and badger are the most fashionable furs for trimming. Whether one's coat is colored with fur or not is pretty much a matter of personal choice, for flaring bias scarfs of silk or cloth are quite as smart as collars of fur. But if you decide to have your coat fur-trimmed let the beavers and badgers do it.

Raglan armholes, full sleeves fastened with links at the cuffs, and very large outside hip pockets are new and important, as far as coats are concerned.

Features Three-Piece Ensembles. Three-piece ensembles are featured by Berthe, the jumper blouse being of crepe de chine to match the coat lining. All coats of the afternoon type are three-quarters or seven-eighths length.

The newest evening gowns at this house have ankle length side panels billowing from beneath flat hip trills. A separate and matching scarf is considered a necessary part of every evening dress.

Nicole Groult always has featured a normal waistline and is using it at present with good effect on jumper dresses with plaited skirts. The frock of light weight woolen, tailored in appearance and belted snugly with rather of harmonizing or contrasting color, is another popular dress.

A novelty is seen in a boutonniere of gay feathers worn on a tailored sweater. Another method of adding coland trims them with many rows of stitching around the edges. Under these gay jackets, which are heavy enough to fill the requirements of a sweater, simple silk frocks are worn, usually in white, to avoid a clashing of colors, although a purple jacket might be worn effectively with a tulle dress of palest pink.

Laurel, who never has allowed us to forget the charm and the perennial possibilities of the period gown—Laurel, the fairy godmother of the picture dress—now has turned her capabilities to tailoring, sponsoring for the time being at least, the tailored cloth dress for street wear. She, too, favors brown in light weight weathers and shows her versatility in frocks that are a far cry from her fluffy wide-skirted creations of rustling sat-fetas, billowing tulle and laces made over hoop distensions to flutter in the breezes.

Straight lines, tailored collars and revers, and sleeves that fasten primarily at the wrist with old-fashioned cuff-links, mark an achievement in tailoring at this house.

Much Jewelry Is Used.

Jewelry, so Noah Webster says, means jewels collectively, or the art of mounting precious stones. Used colloquially the word has come to mean almost anything in the form of bracelets, necklaces, rings or pins. So in our popular conception of jewelry we have gone far from pureism in speech. The thought of beautiful gems and the art of mounting them fades with the memory of times when jewels were jewels.

Ornaments or accents to dress that come under the name of costume jewelry are interesting and smart for just what they are and delightful in that they make no pretense. At present they have struck a barbaric note. Wooden beads dyed in fantastic colors such as those which delighted the childish hearts of the first Americans, the Redskins, are in the lead for daytime wear. It is not unlikely that santon, so much talked about as to have become bromidic to the point of boresomeness, has brought about this Indian style note.

Briefly tabulated, here is a resume of what various well-known dressmakers are presenting in modern jewelry:

Louiseboulanger shows, with frocks of mixed tweed or jersey, wooden necklaces and bracelets in the form of strands of tiny wooden beads twisted together. On the dresses she uses buckles of bright colored carved wood, as many as three, one above the other, appearing on one belt.

The popularity of these wooden buckles, many of them of fantastic design, is not confined to this house. At Champcommunal's a most unusual buckle represents a chicken peeping through an oval ring. Suzanne Talbot advocates fastening belts with the assistance of a pirate holding a knife in his teeth, a most bloodthirsty idea for a belt buckle.

Glass Jewelry on List.

For more formal daytime wear glass jewelry is popular, that is, just ordinary glass, not real crystal. Very charming bracelets are shown in all colors to match the costumes with which they are worn. They are made after the manner of the old-fashioned jet bracelets strung on elastic.

Suzanne Talbot exploits rings cut from crystal with a bit of carved black enamel, where the stone ordinarily would be set. She also uses crystal chains as shoulder straps and crystal belts on dresses.

Patou favors necklaces of black fringe interspersed with strands of dull glass beads tipped with tiny black balls.

Chanel continues to feature her well-known crystal jewelry. Her most popular evening necklace consists of two rows of contrasting crystals, one red, the other blue. But just to show her versatility she has introduced a new and interesting note in sports jewelry. Blue, formerly considered as the chief ingredient of nursery padding, is what she uses. Strands of it, in two colors, are twisted into a short necklace which buttons around the neck and is fastened in front with a long tassel. Each strand of rice in the tassel is tipped with a tiny glass bead.

or is silk stitching, which carries out the principal shades of the yarns used in the mixed tweeds.

Wash silk shirt waists or figured wool jersey jumpers complete three-piece ensembles. Many of these are trimmed in unusual ways. The wool jerseys, for instance, are finished by contrasting crepe de chine scarfs, tied at the front, and silk cuffs to match. Jumpers of white or colored satin have fitted cuffs, ties, belts and appliques of darker colored or black satin. These touches of distinction tend to bring blouses very much to the foreground.

Every woman these days has cardigan jackets galore. There are so many of them in every color and kind of cloth that one needs must do something original to make a cardigan that will cause even a flutter of excitement.

Jeanne Lanvin, the clothier of French, has done the unusual in making for the late summer and autumn bright colored cardigans of thick diagonally striped cloth in warm tones of emerald green, paucy purple and fiery red. These she makes unfitted

Bread's Value Recognized

It is a matter of scientific knowledge that the diet choice of the human family, in the majority of cases, is due to a subconscious sense of what the human system needs. That is why bread has been the first of the instinctive choices. The yeast that helps to make bread is rich in antineuritic vitamins. The yeast which causes the bread to rise generates these vitamins in large quantities, which tend to improve the condition of the skin.

Ancient "Doorkeeper"

An ancient wooden "doorkeeper"—a carved figure in the shape of a human being which was found guarding the entrance to a small house erected by Cameron tribesmen of Africa—is in the African hall at the Field Museum of Natural History, Chicago. The doorkeeper was supposed to be a protection for the skull of a chief killed. On ceremonial occasions, the tribesmen made offerings of food and magical medicine to both the skull and the doorkeeper.

Wall Street's Rim to Become Residence Zone

New York.—Might this in Wall Street, heretofore the fast of third clerks, take on new meaning with the announcement that a rim of residential towers will rise in the foothills of the financial district.

Until recent years a visitor to the banking and stock trading area after dark would be followed by echoes of his own footsteps and meet no one but charwomen.

When the rank and file of citizens began to patronize their local brokerage house branches the situation changed. The daytime population of lower Manhattan doubled, then tripled.

Employees and executives were obliged to remain at their desks clearing up the day's mass of business long after the theaters had sent their patrons home. They had their choice of spending the night in an uptown hotel or making a long trip to their suburban homes.

The need for adequate downtown housing facilities finally became so urgent that a group of leading banking and investment houses have backed a project to erect a city of apartment homes on ground where Peter Stuyvesant and his friends used to discuss the Indian menace.

Daily Thought

Every man has at times in his mind the ideal of what he should be, but is not. This ideal may be high and complete, or it may be quite low and insufficient; yet in all men that really seek to improve, it is better than the actual character—man never falls so low that he can see nothing higher than himself.—Theodore Parker.

Bread Values

The result of a very large number of experiments carried on in the United States discloses the digestibility of the protein matters of white bread averages 80 per cent; of whole wheat bread, 75 per cent. The starch is assimilated to the extent of 95 per cent in white bread and 92 per cent in whole wheat.

LIGHTS OF NEW YORK

GRANT DIXON

NEW YORK.—Vocal imitations are the latest, ever since the so-called talking movies came into vogue. A good many of our screen heroes and heroines, it has been revealed, have poor voices and must have others to do their singing and talking. Sometimes this provides startling and amusing results, as witness a recent picture in which the movement of the actor's lips didn't at all coincide with the words of the song he was supposed to be singing.

On one occasion a screen actor recently was introduced at the premiere of his first all-talking picture. When the audience heard his voice the house rocked with laughter and boo. It was explained by the management that the actor had a cold—but this week explanation left the audience, skeptical to the last, very, very cold.

Dark Ghost of the Past

Now and then you may see a colored gentleman of about fifty years or so, his form still stiffly erect, walking along Broadway. He is Jack Johnson, one champion heavyweight of the world. The once famous champ, they say, has fallen into days that lack the glamor he enjoyed in another decade. Johnson, though he made quite a bit of money, saved little of it. He no longer lives in the sumptuous apartment of the past but in a modest Harlem hotel. There were days when he made a big splash in Broadway. Today his activities cause no more ripple than the humblest pebble in the biggest sea.

Beggars on Horseback

It happens quite frequently in New York but still the populace falls for it. The city is filled with professional beggars and, in spite of the current legend that New Yorkers are hard-hearted, they seem to make quite a living at their profession.

The other day a woman was arrested as a beggar and when searched $8,000 in bills was found on her. Another "beggar," it was learned, had $70,000 in the bank.

Beggars travel up and down the subway, and adopt all sorts of subterfuges to gain sympathy and, which is more important, money.

The Man Who Hit Back

An excellent story of revenge is told by Walter Winchell, the Broadway commentator, concerning John Farrow, now of Paramount's local scenario department. Four years ago he was a sailor whose life was made miserable by the captain and chief officers on a trading ship. He vowed that some day he would even things.

Recently (with the aid of his savings from a $75 weekly wage) Farrow cleaned up in Wall Street. One of the first things he did to celebrate, according to Winchell, was to buy the major interest in the trading vessel and to fire the captain and his chief officers.

Riley Talent

On day recently Florence Siegfeld noticed a girl in the dancing studio displaying talent on her toes. He invited her to dance in "Show Girl," his next production.

The girl first had to have her father's permission and then it was revealed that the girl, Louise Peck, is the daughter of a multi-millionaire Wall Street broker. Flo seems to get them classy—sometimes in looks, sometimes in family connections and, as in this case, sometimes both.

A Flood of Words

Somebody ought to take a census of the manuscripts that come into New York daily from hopeful writers in all parts of the country.

Most of these, the publishers say, are worthless, amateurish attempts. Some are written in long-hand, even with pencil, and they have to be mighty good to get much attention. Professional writers always have their scripts typed if they do not do it themselves. Magazine and book publishers, fearing they may pass up a good story, are forced to maintain large reading staffs.

If an "unknown" writer doesn't get a chance it is in 99 cases out of a hundred his own fault.

Cat Hunts Out and Kills Copperheads

Mount Savage, Md.—Miss Katie McNamee, who lives in the north end of Mount Savage, has a cat that hunts copperhead snakes. Tabby, answering to the name of "Putt," has killed eight copperheads this season, ranging from 14 inches to 2 feet in length. Most of the dead snakes were carried to the house by the cat.

The snake-hunting of the tomcat has not changed his disposition as he is tame and affectionate when in the house. The unique feline acts as an alarm clock for his mistress, when he awakes every morning at 5 o'clock. He climbs a tree near the house, leaps to the porch roof and mews at the bedroom window until Miss McNamee is aroused. The McNamee home is near a cliff and rocky hill, where snakes are said to be abundant.

Word's Origin Forgotten
"Ocher" appears to be a word more or less synonymous with "ochre." It is a word of uncertain origin and probably came from some obsolete English word. It seems to be a man who is dignified, a leader or chief.

Market for Fruits And Vegetables

New York, Aug. 15. (State Department of Agriculture and Markets).—The wholesale market was a trifle firmer today on white potatoes. Arrivals were rather light. The demand, however, was moderate. Jobbing sales on Long Island No. 1 cobbles in 150-pound sacks were reported at $4.75@5.00, occasionally $5.25.

The prospects for potatoes declined further during July. The estimated crop of about 375,000,000 bushels is 2,000,000 less than expected on July 1 and is 22,000,000 less than last year's large crop. Present indications are that potato production in the late states will be smaller than last season everywhere except in New England. Yields may be particularly low in the drought-stricken area from Minnesota west to Idaho.

Increased receipts of Big Boston lettuce, particularly from Oswego county, New York, weakened the market and prices tended downward. Trading was less active. Crates of two dozen heads wholesaled at 75c@1.25. In a few instances some strictly fancy reached $1.50.

The demand for white cabbage was rather slow. Arrivals were moderate. Most of the store sales on sacks of about 90 pounds were at $3.50. Crates of approximately 100 pounds from Virginia sold at $4@4.50.

The demand for celery was exceedingly light and the market, closed very weak. Supplies were liberal. Stock in the rough, packed in two-thirds crates, peddled out at $1.50@2.50, chiefly around $2@2.25 on the best.

Price changes were unimportant on Catskill Mountain cauliflower. The market was inactive. Jobbing business was transacted mainly at $2.25@3 per crate. In a few instances some extra fancy commanded $3.50.

Green peas were lower. Arrivals were moderate. The demand was light. Upstate bushel baskets sold as high as $2 and as low as 75c. Most of the transactions, however, were made at $1.25@1.50. Colorado peas in crates of about 45 pounds realized $2.25@3.25, mostly $2.50@3.

Columbia River Dam Boomed As Next Great U. S. Project

Recommends Warden's Charge.
 ALBANY, N. Y., August 15.—James A. Sullivan of Newburgh, county leader to the county board supervisors, today reiterated his charges that the board had voted the passage of a bill for a new building at a price near twice the value when he went before the board. He was appointed by the board to investigate the charges. He declared that a preliminary appraisal had set the land's value at $551,000, whereas the board had voted $345,000 for the tract.

HOW NEEDS CARRIED BY BIRDS HELP IN TREE PLANTING.
 When driving along country roads, says an observer in the United States Department of Agriculture, one often notices rows of irregular distances along the roadside, although the fields may be clear and well cultivated. This member of the Bureau of Biological Survey says that farmers sometimes plant trees for windbreaks, for shade, or for fruit production. Sometimes a man clearing a field will leave trees at the border line. But these explanations do not take into account the important work the birds do in planting the trees in time. Many of these roadside trees grow from seeds transported by birds who roost on fence posts and wires. Some trees bear pulpy fruits which the birds pick and carry for a distance before eating the fruit and discarding the seed. Sour gum, hackberry, mulberry, black cherry, sweet cherry, black tamarind, juniper, dogwood and viburnum, shadblow and cucumber tree are some of the varieties planted by birds. Not many of these are of much value as forest trees, but some of the seed-eating birds, such as red-headed woodpeckers, bluejays, nuthatches and titmice, collect seed from such valuable timber species as pines, hickories, oaks and chestnuts. Sometimes they drop seeds while carrying them to their hoards. Often they do not eat all the seeds they collect, and these seeds have opportunity to sprout.

How Forest Trails Are Marked for Travelers.
 Except in occasional obscure places, trails in common use are clearly evident by the slight depression worn in the ground. But sometimes in rocky places, meadows or forests where the ground is thickly strewn with litter, or when the ground is covered with snow, the path underfoot is not distinguishable. To provide against such a contingency trails are generally indicated by a continuous series of easily recognized marks within sight of each other. In the forests the marks are blazes on trees close to the trail, a blaze being a cut through the bark exposing a surface of the lighter colored sapwood. Blazes are cut in various shapes, many trails being marked by those having the form of the letter T. In rocky places trails are usually indicated by several rocks piled one on top of the other, commonly known as "ducks," "monuments," or "calms." In meadows stakes or dubs are sometimes set along the trail if the trail is not marked where it leaves the meadow.

How to Remove Paint.
 The bureau of standards says that there are in general two types of material for removing paint from both metal and wood surfaces. The cheapest is a solution of caustic soda and water, generally used hot. However, care must be taken to remove all of the caustic soda from the underlying surface after using this remover. Caustic soda solution can be kept in wooden or iron vessels. It will strip the coating from galvanized metal. The other type of remover is composed of mixtures of alcohol, acetone, benzol and generally some wax. This type can be kept in ordinary metal or glass containers. Another method of removing paint is by use of a painter's torch.

How Insects Gather Oxygen.
 The mechanism by which insects capture oxygen from the air and distribute it to their body tissues is quite different from the vertebrate lung. The air-breathing vertebrates pump air into and out of their lungs, and their red blood corpuscles carry the oxygen to the tissues. In the insects the breathing tubes that open through most of their body segments have many inward branches, reaching to all parts of the body, and, indeed, filling up all the space not occupied by other vital organs. Thus the air itself travels directly to the parts that need it.

How to Preserve Posts.
 The popular idea that crocote used merely as a paint will preserve that part of a fence post set under ground is erroneous, writes an expert in the Farm Journal. The posts should be thoroughly soaked for five hours in hot crocote and for an equal time in cold crocote, he advises. Charring the base of posts or setting the posts in gravel are equally poor methods of protection against decay, he says.

How Soot Is Deposited.
 Soot is deposited on cold surfaces of the chimney and burns only when it becomes very hot. If you notice a fireplace after a fire has burned down, a deposit of soot is left at the back. When a fire is again built, the soot will burn off.

How "Hall Mark" Originated.
 The term "hall mark," as applied to silverware, was derived from the fact that gold and silver articles were originally assayed and marked at the Company hall of the Guild of Gold and Silver Smiths.

Esquimaux Not So New.
 Some commandments of the ancient Jewish Talmud in line with modern eugenic principles were reported by William Grossman, Hebrew scholar of Passaic, N. J., to the American Eugenic society.

SHOKAN.
 Shokan, Aug. 15.—Mrs. R. P. Burgess and daughter of St. Paul, Minn., who have been spending a few days with friends and relatives in this vicinity, left Sunday for New York, where they will visit Mrs. Burgess' sister.

John Oshewsky and family of New York city are guests at the Hershendroeder home on the mountain road.

Mrs. Rose Peck, who is a member of Shokan's summer colony, has shown to some of her friends a number of beautiful water colors painted by her. Included among the subjects are: The old stone house on the William Teaching place along the Hattermunkill, long the home of the Weeks family; the former William Bogart residence on the beach, where Mrs. Jane Bogart lived before removing to the new house near door now occupied by herself and Mrs. Arthur Carter; and the abandoned studio of the Vanderbilt country place, which a score of years ago was used by Francis Gillies, a well-known sculptor of buildings and landscape models.

The Misses Olive and Marguerite Eckert of St. Vernon, and their mother, Mrs. Herman Eckert, are sojourning at Edward Terwilliger's beautiful overlooking the west basin of the reservoir. These visitors to Shokan are all former residents, having resided in the old village on what was known as the William Bush place, Mrs. Eckert being a daughter of Mr. Bush.

While hard showers seem to have been the rule in the town surrounding Olive during the week end, this immediate section was favored merely by a few brief storms which were neither long nor heavy enough to afford relief to the dwindling water supply. The grass in the pastures and meadows is picking up a little, however, and that is more or less comfort to the farmers.

Business is good in Shokan and there is no unemployment problem here. Every able-bodied man who wants to work is employed, and the boarding house keepers have their full quota of city guests. All this is a good deal to be thankful for at a time when prosperity is reported to be anything but rampant in some sections of the state.

Henry Vogt of Kingston spent Sunday at the home of his brother-in-law, Francis Hughes.

The state road workmen have been engaged for the past few days in putting the finishing touches to our fine concrete speedway. The shoulders have been graded and rolled and the expansion seams filled with asphalt. Between the church and Frank Myers' place there has been considerable cement work done, including a ditch for carrying off surface water, and some curbing along the south side of the road in the vicinity of the new bridge. Hogsback has been beautified by removing the boulders long parked there and grading down the banks of the famous old hill. All in all, the new road is generally conceded to be a "good job."

Included among visitors to Shokan last Sunday were Lester Elmendorf and family of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Quick and son of Hershendroeder.

The rainy weather on Tuesday evening failed to deter a crowd of people from turning out for the movie show in the village hall. For Friday night Manager Wheat has secured as the feature "Warming Up," starring Richard Dix, which will be supplemented by the usual comedy and news reel. Folks from all over town are getting the habit of coming to Shokan on movie night, showing that the innovation is greatly appreciated hereabouts.

Al Didier and family are spending their vacation at the Dumont camp in the grove on the west branch of the Buttermunkill. Mrs. Didier, who as a girl was Lillian Longyear, grew up in Shokan, and she and her husband had many friends here.

Michael Allen, board of water supply policeman in the Gilboa sector, is having a new driveway built at his place here. Charles Giles, local contractor, is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. John Doughney and two children of Brooklyn have returned home after spending a week at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brundage. The Doughneys, who came to this country recently from Newcastle, England, are greatly pleased with the reservoir country and hope to pay many more visits to Shokan.

Mrs. Alida Griffith is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rose on North Boulevard.

The Reformed Church fair and supper on Tuesday afternoon and evening was fairly well attended, nearly $200 being taken in.

To say that motorists are making good time on the new road is putting it mildly indeed; rather they are making a speedway out of it. Meanwhile, the matter of the installation of a traffic light at the corner hangs fire, pending the decision of the powers that be as to the necessity and practicability of the project.

ATWOOD.

Atwood, Aug. 15.—There will be an ice cream social held on the Atwood Church grounds Saturday evening, August 17. Homemade ice cream and cake and other refreshments will be for sale. All are cordially invited to attend.

Donald Krom of Bloomington is visiting relatives here.

Mrs. Charles Lamoree and family expect to return to their home in Poughkeepsie on Saturday after spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Krom.

The Misses Florence and Helen Drews of Middle Village, L. I., are spending their vacation with friends here.

Miss Isabel Johnson is recovering from an operation on her throat.

Miss Gladys Larean and Helen Nelson have returned to their home in Jersey City after visiting at the home of Thomas Hansen.

Harvey Drews of Middle Village, L. I., is spending his vacation with Charles Gerwin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bracy of New York city are spending two weeks at the home of S. J. Krom.

Mrs. Charles Hess and family have returned to their home in Brooklyn. The Rev. and Mrs. Jay Holmes

Smith of Edgewater, with friends from Ohio, called here on Monday.

There will be service in the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock standard time.

LAKE KATYNE.
 Lake Katyne, August 15.—The superintendent of the Home Department, Mrs. Lewis Shaw, wishes to thank all who helped in any way to make the lake a success.

The season for the Katyne is about 24. It will be held at the lake. The committees are all over and asking it will be well patronized. There will be 10 or 12 booths erected on the shore. The children hoped to see all the things will be dropped down stairs. Tickets are now on sale.

Zinna and Joie Carpino Are in Fine Condition

There will be 24 rounds of boxing at the Kingston Fair Grounds Friday night. Of these rounds, New Zinna and Joie Carpino will be seen in action in two six-round affairs. The two local boys are in fine condition, and expect to show the fans some real fighting.

Nick Zinna has a tough opponent in the young New York Heavyweight, Harry Mattinsky. The fight crowd wanted this return bout between Zinna and Mattinsky, which is expected to be a thriller.

Bill Singer received word Wednesday night that Harry Mattinsky stopped out at Poughkeepsie, while on his way to this city. Mattinsky agreed to see the bout held at Woodcliff Park but because of weather conditions they were postponed. The local fight promoter announced that Mattinsky would arrive here this afternoon.

The six round bout between Joie Carpino and Harry Crotty is another one that interests the fans. Carpino has established a reputation for himself which is comparable with many of the best fighters of his class in the ring today.

Other bouts supporting these two are: Joe Tinsley vs. Bruno Sabo, (6); Frank Goosby vs. Joe Corbett, (6); Benny Husick vs. Raymond Tabon, (6); Willie Young vs. Eddie Mund, (4).

Pan-Ams to Play McKinley Nine

The Pan Ams will play the McKinley Brother's team from Newburgh Sunday afternoon at the Pan Am Park. The Hilly city aggregation is the only club that gave the Pan-Ams a trimming on their own diamond this season. This contest is scheduled to begin at 3 o'clock.

The McKinley team although they were more than the Pan-Ams could hold in their first meeting, have strengthened their line-up to a greater extent. Four baseball men from the West Point Artillery now hold positions on the McKinley squad. The Pan-Ams are all set for a tough battle and they are in hopes of turning the tide this time.

Woodcliff Bouts Tonight.
The boxing bouts at Woodcliff Park, which were postponed Tuesday and Wednesday nights on account of rain, will be held tonight if the weather conditions permit.

Limit Number of Ducats for Army-Illinois Game
Anticipating a sell-out of seats for the Illinois-Army football game September 15, the university ticket committee has decided to limit the number of ducats available to individuals.

Paid-up stadium fund subscribers eligible for one ticket for each $10 given the fund, listed in class A, will not be restricted. Stadium subscribers, who already have used up their quota of tickets under the "one for each $10" plan, will be limited to four tickets each. The latter are listed in class B.

Class C alumni of the university who are not stadium fund subscribers will be limited to two tickets each. Of the 67,000 seats in the stadium, 15,000 have been allotted to the Army.

In planting all of the raspberries, it is well to have the rows six to eight feet apart, and the plants set about three feet apart in the rows.

ROSY PICKS HIS "MONEY" HURLER

Milwaukee Brewer Pitcher Recalls Phil Douglas.

Who was the best "money" pitcher in the last quarter century? Was it Eddie Plank? Or was it Phil Douglas, who was the best pitcher of the last quarter century?

It was with Phil Douglas, 128 years of the Milwaukee Brewers, to decide it is neither of these. It is the choice of the Milwaukee Brewers, Phil Douglas, who was the best pitcher of the last quarter century.

Stuffed Phil, you may remember, was the "money" pitcher of the Milwaukee Brewers, who was the best pitcher of the last quarter century.

Tagging Major League Bases

By WILLIAM J. CHAPMAN, (Associated Press Sports Writer.)

A month after the major league trail, where three of the nine scheduled skirmishes were postponed, was hardly enough for the Athletics. The leaders turned the day to account by wrestling a 5 to 3 decision from the Indians in seven innings behind Moose Grove as the Tigers outpunched the Yanks by 17 to 13 and the Philadelphia lead increased to thirteen and one-half games.

The victory marked Grove's fifth attempt to bring home his eighteenth decision of the season, and was his first triumph since July 25, when he pitched part of a game to gain an easy victory over the Indians at Philadelphia, 21 to 3. He has not met defeat since that time, however, as the A's have either won or tied his every start, but with winning credit going to some other pitcher.

The less said about the lack of the Yankees in Detroit, the kinder it will be to both teams. The game began just as it ended, with the batters swinging from the floor and the pitchers ducking after each loss. Between them the teams scored sixteen runs in the first three innings. From that point to the finish Owen Carroll held the Yanks to the comparatively safe quota of nine hits and six runs while the various Yankee tossers continued their queasy work with the result that the Bengals won rather handsomely.

The Red Sox defeated St. Louis by 4 to 1 and the Senators slammed the White Sox by 11 to 3 in remaining American League games.

With all activity halted in the New York metropolitan district, where the Cubs were scheduled to meet the Robins and the Cardinals the Giants, National League proceedings for the day were limited to Boston and Philadelphia. Jess Petty turned in a five-hit game at Braves' Field to defeat the home team by 1 to 0, and the Pirates reduced the margin of the Cubs half a game to eight contests. Percy Lee Dones pitched well enough to win any ordinary game.

At Philadelphia the home team shaded the Reds by 3 to 1 in the first game of a double-header cut short at the end of the seventh by rain. The second game, of course, was postponed.

The Cubs and the Robins will play off their postponement in a double-header today, and the Giants and the Cards will double on Saturday.

The bout, postponed last night because of rain, was rescheduled for this evening. It will be a ten rounder.

Withhold $7,500 Purse.
Los Angeles, Aug. 15 (AP)—The State Athletic Commission, pending investigation, has withheld the $7,500 purse allotted George Godfrey, giant Leipserville, Pa., negro heavyweight, for his bout here Tuesday night against "Long Tom" Hawkins, San Diego, Cal., negro. Godfrey also was automatically suspended from boxing in California for thirty days for fouling Hawkins, who was declared the winner. Ringriders declared both fighters were guilty of low punching during the three rounds the bout lasted.

Poughkeepsie Play P.O.-Apollo-W.S. Game Postponed

Industrials Here On Saturday

A fast contest is in store for the baseball fans who attend the game scheduled for the Kingston Industrials and the Poughkeepsie All Stars Saturday afternoon at the Athletic Field. The game will be called at 4 o'clock sharp.

"Waco" Peters probably will get the assignment to pitch for the Industrials, while Jim Volker and Ken Best will be held in reserve. Hank Smodes is slated to do the catching. The Industrials' regular line-up will be on the field.

Poughkeepsie most likely will see on Fox Korman to hold the Industrials' batsmen, with Simmons behind the plate.

Legion Meeting Friday Night

An important meeting of Kingston Post will be held in the American Legion Memorial Building on Friday evening. At this time County Commander C. J. Henselman will install the officers of the post elected at the July meeting.

The newly elected post commander, Morton Finch, will take up the plans of government of the local post and will give out his program for the coming year. Commander Finch wants every member to attend the meeting Friday evening and offer their services on the various committees. His program requires many hands and many hands.

A number of Legionnaires, or their wives, have already earned free trips to the national convention of the Legion in Louisville, Ky., which takes place the first week in October. Members interested in attending this convention free of charge, are requested to attend and find out how to do it.

The latest plans for the local boys to attend the state convention parade in Utica on September 6 will be given out also.

The newly appointed post activities committee promises some real entertainment after the meeting. Chairman Roy Jacob is well-known for providing excellent entertainment. Whether it's to be a musical, a musical show or something new, he does not say.

The auxiliary will not meet until September.

Thames River Postman

Every morning a bright red row boat may be seen moving about the Thames from London bridge to Wapping, propelled by a single man, who is the postman of the Thames delivering mail matter to the boats anchored in the stream. The weather has no influence on his trips and often he has some trouble in locating the vessel he desires to visit. The craft often move about so that where they were yesterday does not mean that they are there today. Aside from this, his operations are often hampered by fogs when he is in danger of crashing into some vessel or being crashed into. This position has been held by a member of the same family since 1804.

Death-Watch Beetle

Woodworm is the popular name of this enemy insect, and some call it the death-watch beetle, from its habit of making a tapping sound in the woodwork it attacks. No wood is safe from it. While it is generally supposed that it attacks only ancient houses, this is not the case, for it will sometimes appear in a perfectly new house and proceed to bore into the timbers. Roofs and floors are in equal danger, and it will eat a chair, a chest or a picture frame with the same zest.

Not So Good

A fond father who prided himself on his writing ability, being a professional writer, aided his little daughter in preparing a composition on "London" one evening. He edited her sketch and could not refrain from practically rewriting it, adding quite a little polish, he thought. Janey came home the next evening proudly waving her theme. But father felt his feathers full somewhat when he saw the mark and realized that he had made only A minus in the fifth grade.

SNAKE STORY WITH POSSIBLE MORAL

Cripples Flee When Boa Invades Hospital.

New York.—This is a snake story to keep one up nights—and sober. It was brought into New York by Allan A. Lounberg, president of the Grace line.

The Grace line Santa Rita, on which Lounberg was a passenger from Valparaiso, Chile, put in on July 7 at the port of Guayaquil, Ecuador. Mr. Lounberg went ashore.

Shortly before midnight he heard a tremendous clamor in the town. Police were called out, the militia thronged down the narrow streets, fire engines clanged over the cobbles.

Mr. Lounberg followed the procession to the edge of town, where the jungle begins and where is located the Civil hospital.

A ten-foot boa constrictor had glided out of the undergrowth and made its entrance into the hospital through a window. Gliding down corridor after corridor, it made its way to the cripples' ward. Night lights were burning. Some one screamed.

Then, all at once, there was panic and shrieks of fright and hysteria. The snake had attacked a male nurse. The cripples, many of them bedfast for months, leaped from their beds and fled on newly vitalized limbs to the windows.

One man who had been paralyzed for more than two years jumped six feet from his bed to a window and another eight feet to the hospital's patio.

Doctors examining him later, believed him cured. His had been a hysterical paralysis.

The police and militia killed the snake.

Lions on New $2 Bill Is Error of Designer

Richmond, Va.—To Gene Ogilvie, manager of the university branch of the Peoples' National Bank of Charlottesville, at Charlottesville, Va., goes the distinction of being the first to discover a defect, or rather a discrepancy in the recently issued new currency of the United States. An error was found on the back of the new $2 note, which carries a likeness of Thomas Jefferson on the front and a picture of Monticello on the reverse. Examination of the picture of Monticello reveals that it contains the image of two lions, one on either side of the veranda of the mansion. It is pointed out that these lions are, in reality, not on the grounds at Monticello. Nor were they there during the regime of Jefferson. The animals were placed there by Mr. Levy shortly after he purchased the property many years ago.

During his ownership the lions were there, but when the Thomas Jefferson Memorial foundation bought the estate the two kings of beasts were removed, and it is thought that they were sold at auction along with other relics from the house.

London, Paris Police Unite to Fight Crime

London.—The police departments of London and Paris have concluded an agreement to work together in curbing the activities of international bandits.

The agreement was reached during a conference between Lord Byng, commissioner of police of London, and M. Chlappe, the Paris prefect of police. It provides for close co-operation between the police and emigration departments of France and England and the establishment in France of an office for checking the movements of international criminals.

This agreement is one of the most important steps yet taken to stem the activities of thieves and armed bandits," said M. Chlappe.

Scotland Yard has noticed that whenever a particularly daring raid has been carried out in this country the bandits were generally foreigners. This is also our experience in France.

"We must do everything in our power to check the activities of these dangerous aliens."

World Has One Motor for Every 61 Persons

Washington.—There is one automobile to every sixty-one persons in the world, the automotive division of the Department of Commerce announced in a report on world motorization. The high ratio in the United States, which is one automobile to every 4.57 persons, accounts for this high world average. Excluding the United States the ratio is 247 to 1. If Canada were excluded it would rise to the ratio of 267 to 1. The lowest per capita automobile registration is in Arabia, one state (Asia) having 75,000 persons to each automobile. Other countries which help to bring down the high ratio set by the United States are Afghanistan, with 23,166 persons to each automobile, and Ethiopia with 22,545 persons to each car.

While botanically the stalks of rhubarb are not fruits, in popular usage it is the way in which it is eaten that determines what is a fruit and what is a vegetable. As rhubarb is used as a dessert, it is generally classed as a fruit.

Sues for $2,500 Over Yule Disappointment

Toledo, Ohio.—Christmas is worth $2,500 to Mr. and Mrs. Cary F. Mallory, according to a suit filed here against P. Nash Livingston, photographer.

According to the complaint, Mallory's son was photographed by the defendant to provide a Christmas present for the father. The suit charges the picture was used as a sample by a solicitor for the studios. Neighbors to whom the solicitor had shown the photograph told Mallory, and as a result he was not surprised when he received the gift and the Yule spirit was lost.

Scotch Chestnut Tree

Bids Defiance to Time

In solitary grandeur on the edge of the spacious lawn, directly in front of Bernersyde hall, on the Scottish border, stands a giant chestnut tree. Although it is reputed to be at least nine hundred years old it still gives evidence of vigorous growth. It supports its massive bulk unaided, and though some of its larger branches have been wrenched off by storms, its trunk is intact, with a girth of fully eight yards at a height of five feet from the ground.

A tradition still exists to the effect that when the lairds of Bernersyde in the distant past received their guests they wanted to give them the right hand of welcome under this ancient tree. But, be that as it may, it is today a peculiarly fitting companion for the gray old pile opposite, for they stand together as they were standing on that momentous day in 1066, when William of Normandy won a kingdom on Senlac hill.

Labor of Love

"Uncle" John Powell, circuit rider of the early days of the Nineteenth century, whose field of operations covered Oregon, as well as Missouri and Tennessee, was not "out for the money." In fact, he took no remuneration, asking only fare for himself and feed for his horses. "Just charge my bill to the Lord," he would say as he mounted his cayuse to ride away from the farmhouse where he had been entertained while preaching in the neighborhood.—Kansas City Times.

Silver Lining

Gen. William Mitchell, of aviation fame, said in the course of a political speech in New York:

"We must always look on the bright side, friends. We should emulate the little girl."

"The little girl had two pets, a cat and a canary, that she dearly loved. But the cat ate the canary!"

"Did the little girl despair? No. Looking on the bright side, she said: 'I have two pets in one now.'"

THERE IS NO OTHER ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

THE only all-steel refrigerators in the world... these rugged General Electrics. Built of sheets of steel—as strong and long-lived as a safe. They cannot warp because steel cannot warp. Their doors will never sag. Their latch and hinges will never loosen—they are bolted right into the steel.

Because their doors always fit so tightly and because of specially effective insulation, these refrigerators actually maintain perfect temperature (always safely below the 50 degree danger point) on the least possible current. Heat cannot leak in and cold cannot seep out... and that is the secret of economical refrigeration.

Just as an all-steel cabinet is superior to other types, so is the hermetically sealed mechanism of the General Electric in a class of its own. It is dust-proof and worry-free. Operation is extremely quiet. It never needs oiling. It has an accessible temperature control. As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs! Come and see the models, any of which can be purchased on conveniently spaced payments.

Tune in on the General Electric Hour broadcast every Saturday evening 8 to 9 Eastern Standard Time over the N. B. C. network of 42 stations.
